Reaching the 95% (R95) Initiative

Commonly controversial R95 principles	Clarification
Patients do not need to be abstinent or have abstinence goals at admission.	R95 supports patients at all points in their journey and does not discourage abstinence or abstinence-focused goals. This policy is intended to increase engagement and admission.
Admission does not require toxicology tests , positive or negative	Every reasonable effort should be made to admit patients when they seek services to leverage readiness. SAPC never required a positive toxicology result for admission.
Patients must consent to toxicology testing throughout treatment and cannot be discharged for refusal.	Refusals are opportunities for connection through curiosity. Staff should reassure patients they will not be automatically discharged for a positive result and encourage honesty and continued engagement. For the justice-involved population, staff should make clear the consequences the patient may face for refusal. R95 does not negate consequences of refusal.
Positive toxicology while in treatment is not grounds for automatic discharge .	Toxicology should be used and presented as a clinical tool and results should be considered within the context of the patient's motivations, engagement, and actions.

What other concerns might R95 raise? What would you need to hear to be convinced?

SUBSTANCE USE
PREVENTION AND CONTROL

Rethinking Substance Use Systems to Facilitate Access and Reduce Barriers

What is the R95 Initiative?

We are facing the worst overdose crisis in national and local history, and research has shown that two-thirds of people in the United States have been impacted by addiction in some way.<sup>1</sup> While substance use disorder (SUD) treatment has been proven to save lives, only approximately 5 - 10% of people with SUDs are accessing treatment services, and 95% of people with SUDs who don't access services report either not wanting or believing that they need help.

Data demonstrates that unless we prioritize engaging this 95% of individuals with SUDs, it is unlikely that we will increase our treatment access rates. For this reason, many substance use systems need to take a fundamentally different approach to better address SUDs by ensuring that programs are designed not just for the 5% of people with SUDs knocking on their treatment doors, but that they are also designed to engage the 95% who are not.

SASH Collateral Call Expansion Planning

Antonne Moore, M.Ed., Chief
Strategic and Network Development Division
Substance Abuse Prevention and Control

R95 Lower Barrier Access for SASH.

- SAPC identified a barrier in its own system for patients receiving appointments when someone other than the patient calls on their behalf (i.e. collateral)
- 17% of callers to the SASH are collateral callers that could assist persons in need of SUD treatment accept treatment.
- 97% of SASH callers are (or calling on behalf of someone who is) Medi-Cal eligible/enrolled, with the vast majority being enrolled.

Los Angeles Alliance Opportunity:

- SASH/CENS are required to respond to LA City Outreach Workers who connect PEH to needed SUD services, even when the patient is not physically present.

- Effective January 2025, the SASH will be updating its call center protocols to include the following:
  - Conduct screenings with collateral callers calling on behalf of a prospective patient.
  - Screen and connect (if applicable) caller with provider to schedule an appointment, even when the patient is not present.
- Collateral Callers may include:
  - LA City Outreach Workers
  - HMIS outreach workers
  - Family and/or Friends
  - Social Workers, case manager, care coordinators

Referral Workflow for Collateral Callers

1. If individual is not present, will ensure there is enough information for a referral.

2. Gather basic financial information to ensure eligibility of the individual

3. Complete a modified brief ASAM screening to determine the appropriate LOC for patient.

4. Locate the nearest or most appropriate provider using the SBAT to secure an appointment with the caller.

5. Document outcomes in the Service Connection Log.

- Note: Only collateral or outreach workers who can provide sufficient information to determine preliminary level of care will be referred to providers for an appointment request.

Provider Considerations for Responding to SASH Calls

- Providers will need to prepare their staff to accept referrals from the SASH, even if the person needing SUD treatment is not on the call.
- Intake appointments that are offered at the point of referral (i.e., w/o requiring the patient to call-back)
- Collateral callers will have essential information if referred but may not have all patient information requested.
